XXXIV Annual Scientific Meeting RSA AiIG 2023
Lecco, October 12-13, 2023

"Humanizing technologies for a better society.
Purpose-driven innovation to empower people"

CALL FOR PAPERS

TUTORIAL – PAPER SUBMISSION

The novelty of this year is that a professional platform (FourWaves) will be used for the submission of papers. The platform will also be used both in the context of the open call and of papers invited for the thematic tracks.

- Before submitting your work, you will first need to register to the platform through the section "Registration". Remember that this will not make you automatically registered to the conference. To do so, please register and proceed with the payment through the following link: https://www.ingegneriagestionale.it/rsa/2023/registration/

- Then, you can submit your work in this section following the steps and reading carefully the instructions. IMPORTANT: the email of the corresponding author shall be the same used for registration.

Another novelty is that two different types of works may be presented:

1) 'Competitive' papers

2) 'Work-in-progress' papers

In the Call for Papers you can find details about the differences of the two formats.

IMPORTANT! The submitted PDF/WORD file SHALL NOT include the names of the authors.

Each author can submit up to three contributions but will be allowed to present just one (every accepted paper must have a different presenter).

Submission deadline: June 30th

In case of acceptance, authors will be required to upload the final version, including the names of the authors, by September 30th